

PRACTICE ANNOUNCEMENT: ALLIANCE WITH DMWR ARCHITECTS, LONDON

As part of our continuing business development and improvement strategy, we are delighted to announce the formation of a working alliance between Wylie Shanks Architects in Glasgow and DMWR Architects in London. Established in 1912 and 1964 respectively, the two Practices have been working together over the last year on the design stages of several major industrial projects throughout the U.K. Recognising this synergy and a compatible ethos, the partnerships are now able to offer their joint experience, geographical convenience and combined resources for the benefit of their clients.

Wylie Shanks Architects enjoys an excellent and long standing reputation in the healthcare, education, public building and industrial sectors throughout Scotland, and the alliance will assist progress in the expansion of its present interests in commercial, retail and residential projects.

DMWR Architects also enjoy substantial industrial sector experience, with more than 30 staff working on major commercial, retail, airport, leisure, residential and high rise projects in England, and bring these additional skills and resources in support of our Practice, which over the years has successfully combined the provision of contemporary architectural solutions with traditional service to clients, through proactive team leadership and the pursuit of best practice.

This is the first stage of our plan to broaden our sector and geographical presence, and from time to time as the business strategy develops we shall be in touch to bring you further details. In the meantime should you wish to find out more about either of the alliance Practices (which will continue to operate as independent limited liability partnerships) please contact Iain MacLaren or visit our web sites.
