

DAVID MILES

PARTNER - GLOVERS - SOLICITORS

Professional Background

Having served in the regular army for 5 years in the UK and Far East, qualified as a solicitor in 1976. Since 1978 has dealt with, and continues to deal with, all aspects of the Construction Industry both non-contentious and contentious. One of the original TeCSA committee members. Past Chairman of TeCSA's Adjudication Committee and Training Faculty.

Mediation Experience

Originally conceived the idea of CEDR in 1989. Was chairman of the original steering committee and a Director until 2002. Has been mediating disputes since 1992 (as well as participating on behalf of clients). The disputes have been principally construction matters but also have involved patents, IT, regulatory matters and general contract disputes.

ADR Experience

FCI Arb. Accredited Adjudicator TeCSA and CEDR. CEDR accredited Mediator, admitted to CIArb and AE Register of Mediators. Member of the Panel of Independent Mediators. Author and lecturer on ADR. Contributing author "Construction Conflict Management and Resolution" and "Coastal and Estuarial Harbour Engineer's Reference Book". Joint author of "The ADR Practice Guide" published by Butterworths. Member of CEDR's Training Faculty since its formation.

Personal

Continues to be involved in encouraging the spread of ADR, particularly throughout Africa and the Caribbean.
